

AGREEMENT TO MEDIATE

1. The participants agree that mediation is a voluntary process and agree to make a good faith effort to resolve the dispute, to cooperate with the mediator, and give serious consideration to all suggestions made in regard to developing a realistic solution to the problem.
2. The parties acknowledge that the mediator is neutral, does not favor either side, and will not make any decisions on this case.
3. If the case does not result in an agreement today, the parties can request another mediation, or pursue another form of dispute resolution.
4. The parties agree that the mediation sessions are to be treated as confidential. All offers, promises, and statements made in the course of the mediation are inadmissible in any subsequent hearing or litigation of the dispute.
5. The mediator will also treat the mediation as confidential. Exceptions to confidentiality include anything which must be reported, as required by law.
6. The parties agree not to subpoena the mediator to participate in any future proceedings regarding this matter.
